

The Dysart History Book Committee is planning to publish a 2nd edition to the 1982 "Dysart – Yesterday & Today" history book, which was published 27 years ago. Dysart has had many changes since then and we feel it is imperative to record the history for future generations. If you, your parents, grandparents or any other family member were, or are, from this area, we would like to know your story. We will also gladly accept information and histories from before the 80's, especially those who were not in the first edition. Business places, organizations, sports events, Dysart school, churches, etc. will be updated and numerous photos added.

This is a lengthy project so we are asking for your submissions to be sent to us by March 1, 2009. Please include an original or high quality reprint (NO PHOTOCOPIES) of a family photo and any other photos related to activities held in Dysart and area such as parades, homecomings, school, sport and social functions, etc. A short note describing each photo would help our committee as well. All pictures will be handled with great care. Please provide a return stamped envelope if you want your photo returned. If you are sending your information via email please be sure to send your pictures at 266 dpi quality to ensure that your photo can be used.

The committee reserves the right to limit the number of pictures that will be used.

Suggestions for your family story, whether it is a new one or a continuation from your last story may include:

1. Names and places, dates of birth and deaths, of family members
2. Where you/they came from
3. Why you/they came
4. Where you/they settled in the area (land location)
5. Your/their occupation prior to coming and what it is now
6. Education and the trades you have/they had
7. Interests – sports, music, etc.

8. Include memories, experiences, misfortunes, happy events, good and bad times, etc.

9. Indicate the author of the story

The committee reserves the right to edit (not change) stories for the purpose of space or repetition.

To help us with the expenses in creating the book, we will require a deposit on each of the books you want to order. This will also ensure that you receive all the copies you ordered without delay. If for some reason we are unable to complete the production of the book, your deposit will be returned.

The new edition will cover the history of Dysart to the year 2009. The books will be hard cover, 8.5"x11" in size, professionally printed and bound by Friesens Corp., Altona, MB.
